

A hand-drawn illustration of a sad, anthropomorphic Earth. The Earth is depicted as a globe with a face, arms, and legs. It has a green landmass and a blue ocean. The face shows a sad expression with slanted eyes and a downturned mouth. There are several blue teardrops falling from the Earth's face. The Earth is surrounded by stylized clouds. In the bottom right corner, there is a small boat with a person inside. The drawing is done in a simple, sketchy style with colored pencils or markers.
